

Andrew Johnson.

With hearts sorrow-burthened, we turn from the tomb of Abraham Lincoln, the honest and true, back to the imperative duties of life, the work he left undone, and endeavor to cast a horoscope of the future, guided by our knowledge or hopes of men, who have the direction of events in their keeping. The necessity was fully realized of not leaving the Nation at such a time as the present for one single day without a hand to guide its destinies, and immediately after the demise of the late President, his successor assumed the grave task he had so nearly completed, when stricken down by treachery. But, although the humane Christian is lost to the Nation on whose enlightened statesmanship we depended to pour oil on the troubled waters and bring order out of the social chaos at the South, we are not without good guarantees of the future in the character of him on whom, in a great measure, descends the mighty responsibilities of the present.

Public confidence is strong in the man, whom the inscrutable dispensation of Providence has clothed with the authority of Chief Magistrate, and he is popularly credited with a Jacksonian disposition, which gains to the Nation, in unrelenting firmness, all that traitors have lost in the merciful inclinations of Abraham Lincoln.

From this and the few words he has uttered, indicative of his future policy, we shall not be surprised if rebels had reason to repent the madness, which slew the mediator, in whose foot-steps arises an avenger. Andrew Johnson has seen, in his own home, has felt in his own person, the spirit that animated treason and will not be loth to mete out to them in some degree, the same measure of justice that has been earned in crime. May it not be, that the decree of Heaven has removed him, when his work was done, whose great kindness might have proved too forgiving of malefactors, and raised up another as the Nemesis of rebellion?

Surely there must be guilt somewhere, for which there can be no adequate punishment on earth, and wrongs so grievous that they cry to Heaven from the ground. The petition of humanity, outraged and trampled upon, will be heard—it cannot be ignored. We much mistake the man, if in Andrew Johnson is not found one, who will turn an attentive ear to the appeal and render unto justice the offering she demands.

EXPLANATORY.—By one of those accidents that sometimes befall and from which the most ridiculous absurdities arise, the VEDETTE was permitted to go to press yesterday with an editorial repetition, which was unnecessary to say the least, and, though both articles are doubtless models of their kind, it must be acknowledged that two so very near alike were not quite essential. It will be understood, however, when we state that the second description of the ceremonies at the Tabernacle, intended as the leader, should have appeared as such, but the person was unavoidably absent whose duty it is to prevent such occurrences by supervising the contents of the paper, and hence the mistake.

WOMEN AS VOTERS.—The new electoral law, in Victoria, Australia, gives votes to all women who pay municipal rates, and, at the last election, they availed themselves of their new power. It is reported that they voted very well, and favored educated candidates, as might have been expected.

Sec'y Seward and Sen Doin well—Funeral Services at Washington—Mobile Captured—Montgomery Captured—Mosby and his gang of Guerrillas Surrendered—Gen. Rosser asks to Surrender—$50,000 Offered for the Arrest of Booth's Accomplices—Booth Traced to Reading, Pa.—General Thomas Whips Forrest—Columbia, Ga., Captured.

New York, April 17th.

The Times' correspondent says: I have just arrived from Mobile. The Stars and Stripes were hoisted on the batteries of Porter and Mackintosh at 10:30 a. m., yesterday, and on the church steeple in Mobile at 2:30 p. m. Granger's forces occupy the city. The rebels commenced evacuating on the 10th and continued until yesterday, when all left. The tug boat Allena, was blown up by a torpedo yesterday.

Washington, April 19th.

The solemn funeral rites and obsequies of the late President Lincoln were paid to-day in the Capitol.

No greater fealty to the memory of the illustrious dead was ever demonstrated in the annals of civilization. The dawn was ushered in by a heavy boom of salutes of minute guns from the fortifications surrounding the city, and at a very early hour the people began to assemble in the vicinity of the Executive Mansion, which was almost entirely draped in crape, as also were the public and private buildings in the vicinity. All of our city public houses and private residences were closed, and emblems of mourning appeared from every cornice and fastened from every window. The inmates poured forth by thousands into the streets, and by 10 o'clock the latter were in many places impassable. Pennsylvania Avenue, from Willard's to the White House, presented by noon one dense mass of people, while the adjacent streets for half a mile in every direction, were filled with military companies and civic processions from a distance, and transports were bringing hundreds every hour.

Between ten and eleven o'clock the military escort formed in line on Pennsylvania Avenue, the left resting on 15th street. The escort consisted of two regiments of infantry, two battalions of cavalry, eight pieces of artillery and one battalion of marines, headed by a full armed band. Other military companies were also accompanied by bands.

At noon the ceremonies commenced in the East room. The ceiling was draped with crape, mirrors hung on the borders with emblems of mourning, while the drapery gave the room a dim light that added to the solemnity of the mournful scene.

President Johnson stood beside the remains of the lamented President during the funeral oration, and Gen. Grant sat at the head of the corps, while the members of the Cabinet and Ex Vice President Hamlin were grouped about.

Rev. Dr. Hall, rector of the Church of Epiphany, read portions of the Episcopal service for the burial of the dead, commencing with

"Lord, let me know my end and the number of my days, that I may be certified how long I have to live; behold thou hast made my days, as it were, a span long, and my age is even as nothing in respect of thee, and verily, every man living is altogether vanity."

Bishop Simpson, of the Methodist Church, offered a prayer, in which he fervently alluded to the emancipation and other noted deeds performed by President Lincoln. Rev. Dr. Gurley then read the funeral oration, and paid a high tribute to the memory of the late President.

At two o'clock the remains were taken to the Capitol by the procession, which was over three miles in length, and were placed in the rotunda where they will lie in state during to-day, and to-morrow will be conveyed under an escort to Springfield, Illinois, via Philadelphia, New York, Buffalo and Chicago.

Washington, April 19th.

Secretary Seward was so much better to-day, that he was able to be assisted from his bed and supported at the window and witnessed the passage of a portion of the funeral procession. Fred's is also improving.

All foreign ministers, with attaches, in all 56, were present at the funeral service at the executive Mansion to-day. Their places in the programme came directly after the President and Cabinet. This for the first time in our history, was in accordance with the usage of foreign nations, where diplomatic corps follow the monarch. Heretofore they have been placed in the programme after the ex President, Justices of the Supreme Court and members of Congress. Upon the arrival of the head of the procession at the east front of the Capitol, the coffin was borne to the center of the rotunda. President Johnson stood at the foot of the coffin, surrounded by a throng of Senators, high military officers and a small number of Illinoisians as chief mourners. Dr. Gurley standing at the head of the coffin, uttered a few most impressive remarks, chiefly in solemn words of scripture, consigning the dead to the ashes that once animated the soul of Abraham Lincoln, to original dust. In deep tones his voice reverberated from the vast walls and ceiling of the rotunda, now first used for such a solemn occasion and during the impressive scene many were effected to tears.

New York, 19th.

It is estimated that over one hundred and twenty-five thousand people were in the streets of Washington to-day, to witness the funeral ceremonies.

Chicago, 19th.

A National Monument Fund is on foot, and a plat of ground of six acres, in the heart of the city of Springfield, Ill., has been selected for the burial place of the lamented President Lincoln.

Dispatches from Halifax, St. Johns, Montreal and other points in the British Provinces, say that a general suspension of business, display of flags at half-mast, and other manifestations of deep sympathy with the people of the United States, and respect for the character of the deceased President, and dispatches from all parts of the East and West state the day was universally observed, and all business suspended and churches filled and discourses appropriate to the occasion delivered.

Newbern, 13th.

Information reaches us to-night that the rebels have destroyed their embryo navy yard at Halifax, on the Roanoke river, as corroborative of the victory at Richmond. Two vessels, one a ram and the other a gunboat, intended for operating in the North Carolina Sounds, and in process of construction, participated in the destruction.

New York, 19th.

The Persia, from Liverpool the 8th, and Queenstown the 9th, has arrived.

The pestilence at St. Petersburg was abating.

Cobden was buried on the 7th. The proceedings were solemn and touching.

In the House of Commons on the 7th, Lord Elcho moved for the correspondence relative to the proposed Canadian defences. He deprecated the erection of the defence, which could only have the effect of inviting Americans to make Canada a battle ground.

The policy of fortifying was questioned by several speakers, but the duty of the British government to defend Canada was generally conceded. Ministers opposed the production of papers, pending a conference with the delegation appointed by the Canadian government to confer with the Imperial government, and was shortly expected in England. Finally the motion was withdrawn.

On the following day, Elcho asked as to the approaching conference with the Canadian deputation. Cordwell said four members of the Canadian Council were expected to confer with the government, and the result of the conference will be promptly communicated to Parliament, and nothing will be done to bind the country, without the full knowledge and consent of Parliament.

Portland, 19th.

The Belgian, from Liverpool 6th, and Londonderry 7th, has arrived.

Melbourn, Feb. 23d.

The war has recommenced in New Zealand, and the British troops had suffered considerable loss.

The plague continues at St. Petersburg. The total cases are 10,000, and deaths 2,000. The cases average 100 a day.

Washington, 20th.

The War Department offers a reward of fifty thousand dollars for the arrest of the assassins of the President, and twenty-five thousand each for the arrest of G. A. Alseerat and David C. Harald, accomplices of Booth, and all persons harboring or secreting said persons, or either of them, will be treated as accomplices in the murder of the President, and be subject to trial before a military commission and punished with death.

New York, April 20th.

The Herald's advices from Winchester 18th says, that Mosby surrendered his forces to Gen. Chapman at Perryville on the 17th on terms similar to those granted to Lee. It is understood that Gen. Rosser also asked that his command be included in cartel. Mosby's men number probably 700. Great numbers of Lee's soldiers are arriving within our lines. They scout the idea that any portion of their army have gone to Johnston and say when it is fairly understood by Johnston's men, that they can go to their homes, they will go.

The Herald's Washington dispatch says, it was ex Governor Farwell, of Wisconsin, who notified Mr. Johnson of the murder of Mr. Lincoln and Mr. Johnson had retired for the night when notified. Prompt measures were taken for his protection and but for the presence of mind on the part of Gov. Farwell, in all probability Mr. Johnson would also have been murdered. In the excitement produced by the knowledge of the murder of Mr. Lincoln, an unusual stir was heard in the room adjoining Mr. Johnson's by unknown men. A pistol and a dirk were found.

Cincinnati, April 20th.

Nashville papers announce the death of Andrew Jackson jun., adopted son of Gen. Jackson.

The Wilberforce University, Green County, Ohio was destroyed by fire on Friday, loss $50,000.

Reading, Pa., April 20th.

Mr. Lyon, U.S. detective, furnishes the following statement:

Booth came to Reading yesterday on the train. He was in Reading all day, and the man that recognized him informed Lyon, that he knew it was Booth.

Lyon, immediately, in company with Mr. Miller, another detective, traced him to the depot and ascertained that a man answering his description had got on the train which just left. The facts were immediately made known to Mr. Nichols, superintendent of the road, and an effort was made to telegraph to Port Clinton, the first telegraph station, but the operator not being about, an engine was fired up and Lyon, Miller and the man who had seen Booth, proceeded with full speed to overtake the regular train. At Port Clinton they were informed that the man described had got off there, but whether he went to the Catawissa train, or not, they could not ascertain. A dispatch was sent to Tamaqua, to the conductor of the train, and in the meantime Port Clinton was searched. Upon the arrival of the train at Tamaqua, the conductor telegraphed as follows:

"The man is on the train."

Another dispatch was sent to the next station for further information, with orders for his detention, this was at eight o'clock. Detective Lyon received a telegram from the conductor, dated Catawissa, saying, "no such man came through in my train."

Mr. Lyon states that he is satisfied that the man is Booth and what measures are being taken for his arrest are being kept private for obvious reasons.

New York, 20th.

The Creole, from Hilton Head, 16th, has arrived.

The capture of Mobile was announced in Savannah, by rebel deserters, on the 14th; also, the capture of Columbus, Ga., by Thomas' cavalry, after a hard fight with Forrest, and 400 or 500 of Forrest's men were captured. Montgomery is also captured.

Col. Gurney, commanding at Charleston, has issued an order advising the freed people collected there to proceed to the islands in the department, and settle on the plantations.

A large incendiary fire occurred in Charleston on the night of the 27th.

Washington, 20th.

The Surgeon General reports that the Secretary of State passed a restive night, but is more comfortable this morning. Fred's Seward continued to improve slowly.

Sandy Hook, 20th.

The brig Onyx, from Pernambuco, reports that Capt. French, of the ship William Tell, of Boston, was murdered by the crew of his ship, about four weeks ago, at Pernambuco.

Boston, 20th.

At the Navy Yard, this forenoon, as one of the workmen was drilling out the fuse of a hundred and fifty pound shell, it exploded, instantly killing five men. All the workmen in the yard were more or less injured, and some fatally.

SECEDES FROM BRIGHAM YOUNG.—About twenty of Brigham Young's late faithful followers arrived in San Francisco on Wednesday, overland from Utah, having deserted or seceded from the dominions of the polygamous chief. They have tried polygamy in all its forms, as practiced at Salt Lake, and have become tired of it. They intend settling down somewhere in California and establishing a colony of their own, where they can carry out their peculiar ideas of domestic and political economy, and will continue the Salt Lake form of society, with the exception that polygamy shall be abolished. They are mostly men and women well advanced in years, and have but few children with them.—Sac. Bee, 7th.

Local Matters.

CAPT. W. M. J. HENS, late commanding Company A. 3d Inf. Bat. C. V., has been promoted to Lieut. Colonel, of the same Battalion.

We are gratified to hear of the promotion of the above able, efficient and worthy officer. Lt. Col. Johns is a thorough soldier, an officer of merit, and a gentleman. He was Captain of Co. D, from the organization of the 3d Regiment Inf. C. V., when upon the consolidation of the Companies into a Battalion, he was by Gen. Connor placed in command of Company A, at the head of which, he filled the position with honor and won the respect and universal regard of his brother officers and the men of his company.

No better evidence could fully attest the unwavering attachment of the men of his company, than the manner in which the announcement of their Captain's promotion was received in their quarters. As soon as the Sergeant informed them that their late Captain had received his Commission as Lieut. Colonel and was in command of Camp Douglas, three hearty cheers were sent aloft, and one and all expressed the sentiment that an excellent officer had received deserved promotion.

CAPT. R. S. WESTBROOK, A. Q. M., U. S. Vol., leaves on Monday next for Denver, Col. Ter., he having been ordered by Gen. Connor, to report at those headquarters, for duty.

The election of officers of Garrison Lodge, No. 65, I. O. G. T., for the quarter commencing May 2d, 1865, takes place on Tuesday evening next. A full attendance of the order is requested.

Assessment Notice.

A regularly called Meeting of the Shareholders of the Gold Canyon Consolidated (I. & Silver Quartz Mining Co., held at Egan Canyon, Lander county, Nevada, on the 14th of March, 1865, Assessment No. 1 of three ($3.00) dollars per foot was levied on the Shareholders

THE ISSUE DECIDED.—Jefferson Davis, in his last despairing address to the victims of his criminal usurpation, delivered just on the eve of his flight from Richmond, assured them that the issue of the struggle then rapidly drawing to its end was "in the hands of God." The issue has been determined against the side which Davis represented, and we are reminded of Thomas Jefferson's prophetic remarks concerning the probability of a civil war to be produced by Southern adherence to slavery: "I tremble for my country when I reflect that God is just; that His justice cannot sleep forever. * * * The Almighty has no attributes which can take side with us in such a contest." Four years ago President Lincoln said in the course of his first inaugural and in deprecation of the war which the South was then beginning to perpetuate and extend its fraud upon humanity: "If the Almighty Ruler of Nations, with His eternal truth and justice, be on your side of the North, or on yours of the South, that truth and that justice will surely prevail by the judgment of this great tribunal." The sad foreboding of Jefferson has been realized, the confident faith of Lincoln has been vindicated, by the retributive working of events. The Union has triumphed, the people are free! The noble vision of a pure Republic, indulged by the statesmen of 1776 when they thrilled the world with the declaration that "all men are created equal," can now become a sublime reality. The last soldier who fought for the independence of the United States will live long enough to see the country entering upon a brighter and a better destiny, rid of the only element that shamed its escutcheon or threatened its perpetuity.—*S.
